1. Public Comment

No members of the public offered comment.

2. Approval of Minutes

After noting Naramore, in Telles' absence, voted on all items on the February 28, 2007 meeting, and on the March 7, 2007 meeting, changing "Rusty" to "Russell V." Watts in the first line for those present; and moving "Katz recused himself from the first item in closed session" from above Item 3, to the sentence before the notice that the Board moved into closed session in Item 2, it was M/S/C to approve the minutes of the February 28, 2007 and March 7, 2007 meetings as amended. (Yes: Cabral, Gaynor, Hast, Katz, Pollacek, Telles, Viramontes and Wedington).

3. Wentworth, Hauser and Violich Presentation - Jeff Coburn, Anthony Precourt

After introductions, Coburn reviewed Wentworth, Hauser and Violich's (WHV) performance history. It was noted the numbers were gross of fees. He stated it has been a difficult year for active managers; however, the firm takes responsibility for past performance results. He felt stock selection affected performance.

Coburn provided a risk and volatility analysis that included how portfolio risk is currently controlled. Coburn compared their fund with GARP (Growth at Reasonable Page 2 March 28, 2007 Price) managers and noted the steps WHV is taking to improve their risk adjusted returns.

Precourt then discussed WHV's succession plan, noting the plan for CCCERA's portfolio was formally established over three years ago. He noted Springman has been a mentor for Coburn and Precourt, and will be staying on in an advisory capacity. He then reviewed the respective ages and years of experience for all investment professionals, including those on the Large Cap Core Committee.

An active search for a new Chief Investment Officer is underway to fill Springman's position. The investment committee is a six-person committee with a majority vote required to take action. All portfolio managers in the Large Cap Core strategy must adhere to committee decisions. Coburn has been selected as portfolio manager and client serving role for CCCERA. It was noted that Coburn has been working closely with Springman on portfolio management/client servicing for $2\frac{1}{2}$ years.

Precourt concluded with a review of the Large Cap Core investment process, core sell discipline and portfolio characteristics along with the highlights of one recent sale.

4. Wentworth, Hauser and Violich Possible Action

After the departure of Coburn and Precourt, Helliesen discussed the WHV sell discipline. He noted if WHV implements the policy discussed they could reduce risk without sacrificing returns.

There was discussion on the amount of experience of the individual selected as CCCERA's portfolio manager and setting a future date to review WHV performance.

There was continued discussion to clarify that WHV was put on Watch for performance and change in personnel, the processes involved during this period, and the time needed to evaluate progress before terminating an investment manager. When asked, Counsel noted the Board has flexibility to terminate an investment manager whenever they feel it is in the best interest of the fund. Hally noted that four years of experience for the portfolio manager is fairly limited; however, he has confidence in the five other active committee members with much more experience that would make decisions. Discussion followed regarding concerns with WHV's sell discipline, performance figures, and leadership.

There was a motion to terminate Wentworth, Hauser and Violich. After discussion on the WHV sell discipline, the GARP Manager category, and the number of large cap core managers in the portfolio, the second on the motion was withdrawn.

The item was tabled until a future agenda. Staff was directed to research and present possible large cap domestic equity structure changes to the Board.
